Light Beacons June 2018 Topic Partnership, Relationship, and Connections

Partnership is a connection that is part of you (part-nership)

- Your energy field, karmic path, soul group, healing journey, soul mission
- Part of the past – and future?

Relationship is a connection based on how you 'relate' to someone – emotionally and energetically

Connections are the links we establish between ourselves and others

- They are based primarily on the energy we share with them – from past lives, soul groups, karma, and our own healing journey

Relationships and partnerships include two important aspects

- Resonance – the frequency and vibration of that person and where and how it fits on our healing journey
- Alignment – what part of our healing journey, soul mission, and life path it fits into

We want congruent and harmonious partnerships and relationships but what are they congruent with?

- Our karmic path, past life energy, resolving unfinished business and healing?
- Our 3D completion and closure or 5D expansion and creation?
- Our desire to heal others or ourselves, or our willingness to explore different types of relationships that do not require healing?

Light Beacons Portal Monthly Lesson

What we see in others is a mirror of our own healing?

- What we actually see, what we think we see and what we want to see

Use this on a challenging person or relationship in your life, past or current.

- What do you see in that person?
- What do think you see?
- What do you want to see?
- What kind of life changes do you think they need to make?

What role do you play in their healing (becoming whole as you define that)?

Where do they fit in your energy field?

What part of you do they fit into (partnership)?

How do you relate to them?

As a healer, as an equal, as a teacher, or as something else?

5D relationships are built on equality, not equivalence

Equality means there is energetic congruence so there can be harmony

Equivalence means you'll fill in the congruence and harmony gaps and tolerate any differences

What kind of relationships are you ready for?

FINAL QUESTION:

What role do you play in relationships when you are not the healer or teacher?

I hope you enjoyed this lesson and look forward to our upcoming Q&A discussion, the link is available on the LIVE Q&A page at lightbeaconsportal.com
