Light Beacons September 2018 - Spiritual Leadership

This month's topic is an important one as we continue with our ascension path and farther into Light Beacon territory of energetic sovereignty.

What is 'spiritual leadership'?

What is a leader and what is a follower?

What is the difference between leading and being a leader (it's the same difference between being a lightworker and a light beacon)?

How do we avoid the Martyred Healer path while being a source for others?

How do we take responsibility for our healing missions without being the healer?

How can we be of service to others and to ourselves without being in service, or the servant, to them?

What are our greatest challenges in our spiritual leadership mission?

- Fearing we will lead others astray
- Judging our success by whether we 'convert' others
- Feeling like we must heal and transform everyone before we can release this mission.
- Thinking that we must be the hands, eyes, and ears of Source for this healing mission.

Light Beacons Portal
Monthly Lesson

When do we stop being the healer? What do we do then?

What is the difference between stopping and quitting? How do you choose?

How can you choose empowered, self-aware and self-serving leadership and still feel like you are 'doing your work'?

What is your 'next step' once you feel your healing mission is completed? When do you take that step?

Many blessings
